Puts in Good Work and Captures Game After Seventh Inning.

GIBBS MISSES AN EASY FLY

The Grand Stand Hisses Players for Nagging a Substitute Umpire.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) (Special to The Trace-Dispatch.)

ROANOKIE, VA., May 2--Roanoke won the first game to-day from Portsmouth, by a score of 6 to 5, but it looked like the tail enders would win until the seventh inning. Porthmouth drew four runs in the first inning, after Gibbs, of Roanoke, had an easy chance to retire the side by an easy play, missing a fly. After that the game was closely contested and interesting.

The features of the game were Brown's

The features of the game were Brown's batting and fielding, and batting by Witten, of Roanoke, Reynolds, of Porta-Inouth, made a two-buse hit, but his cr-

Bishop, the regular league umpire, wired this morning that he was too unwell to come, and Mr. Ford, a local basehall man, filled the position creditably, and Reynolds and Kelly were hissed by the grand tand, for continually nagging him.

RAIN AT DANVILLE.

The Game to Be Transferred to Richmond This Summer.

(Special From a Staff Correspondent.)

DANVILLE, VA., May 7.—It rained all last night, and the sun that beamed down to-day shortly after 12 o'clock could not dry out the grounds enough sfor the Lawmakers to wallop the Tobacconists, under Manager J. Renny. This is the first game in the league this season that has been postponed on account of rain.

Bekstone and Cowan will be the battery to-morrow for the Richmond aggregation, and with the rest that the players have gotten the game will almost assuredly come into the camp of the Richmond crowd. Manager Benny will pitch Rickard, his star slab artist, and Benny himself will be under the willow. Rickard is considered to; be one of the fastest twirlers: in the league, and he has the faculty of playing any other position about as well. In Portsmouth last Saturday he caught the game and threw five men out at second base.

The game that was not played to-day will never be played here. It has been tacitly agreed upon that it will be transferred to Richmond, and that when Danville comes there in the summer a doubleheader, with one admission price, will be the attraction some Saturday. Thus, after all, the rain will, perhaps, be a financial blessing for both the Lawmaters and the Tobacconists. The enthusiasm here is not quite as great as that shown by the Lynchburg people, but this is accounted for from the fact that this team has lost six out of nine games. The ardor of some of the best rooters was dampened just a little.

Laval, the southpaw, will pitch Wednesday's game here, and Colonel Still will open in Richmond. Hinton will be used Championship By Default.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WILLIAMSBURG, VA., May 7.—By refusing to come to Williamsburg to play Randolph-Macon College has forfeited the championship game to William and Mary by a score of 9 to 0. The game was scheduled, six months ago, for May 8th, but the team did not come upon the date. Two other dates were allowed them, but they failed to come, thus forfeiling the game. The failure of the Ashland boys to play was a source of considerable disappointment to the students, who had hoped to win in reality.

The championship now lies between William and Mary and Hampden-Sidney. The game between them will be played here some time this week.

The Westmoreland-Commonwealth Base-ball game, which takes place to-morrow afternoon at Broad Street Park, is attract-ing all sorts of attention and will no doubt draw the largest crowd of the season.

The two teams are composed of "has-beens" it is true, but such a spirit of rivalry has been aroused that the clubmen have gotten into trim by hard practice and daily exercise so and the rooters will have many chances of applauding good plays.

Every day the olubs have practiced and a faithful band of admirers has accompanied them to urge th athletes to greater offorts.

In the windows of Branch Allen's store is a great display of Westmoreland and Commonyealth colors. The black and yellow, of Westmoreland, and the blue and white, of Commonwealth, are shown in flags, banners, streamers and button hole ribbons. This indicates that the "fair sex" will take a hand in the "rooting" and that club lines will be strictly drawn.

A band of music will parade the streets on Wednesday, calling upon the faithful to witness the game and will lister cheer the clubmen with lively quicksteps, while they struggle around the bases chase, hotfoot after the high flies Society, with a big S., will turn out to

The game is entirely new in Richmond, and there will doubtless be a large crowd to witness the introduction of this sport in local circles.

The Ashland team has had only six weeks' practice, but it is said that they have gotten together a fine team. Virginia has known the game longer, having played Mt. Washington on April 28th. Virginia's line-up will be as follows:
Lamb, in home; Stockholm, out home; Truitt, first attack; Bryan (captain), seeend attack; Davis, third attack; Yancey, center; Bartlett, third defense; Medical Companies, Conduction of the Coday, Jay Gould, of Lakewood, N. "Reddy" With "Truckers."

THIS WEEK

IN SPORTS

Bland, in Portsmouth. He joined the Seasiders in Petersburg yesterday morning, as they were en route for Roanoke to line up against King Kelly's boys.

"Reddle" one day quit the Lawmakers in the middle of a game and left the field in open disgust. He never returned, and his name was dropped from the list of Manager Shaffer's players. Since that time he had been looking about him for another berth in one of the six diamonds of the Virginia Leagne. Manager Bland heard of his leaving the Lawmakers, and immediately opened up negotiations with him. He has played ball for many years, and has achieved an enviable reputation for himself, and, no doubt, will be heard from again behind the bat. He will probably be seen here when the Truckers come to meet the Lawmakers.

Owing to the downpour of rain yesterday morning, the game which was scheduled to have been played between Randoph-Macon and Richmond College was postponed. The Ashlanders did not come down, and wired Manager York Coleman, of the local team, that it would be limpossible to play.

The game will be played next Monday; if not then, it will be played next Monday; and the season will close. Another week of athletic activity is before those interested in the various branches of sport. There is not one which will not furnish plenty of opportunity for entertainment, although chief interen will will not furnish plenty of opportunity for entertalnment, although chief interest will centre in racing, professional baseball, golf and college baseball. The rucing senes will change on Thursday from Junaica to Belmont Park, and the running of the rich Metropolitan Handicap on that day is being anticipated with keenest pleasure. The baseball fans will not lack the chance for indulgence in their favorite sport. The Lightanders will play four games Bith Washington and two with Cleveland at American League Park, while the Giants and Superius will play four games Both Washington Park, Brooklyn, in three games before starting on their long Western trp. The first big open golf tournament in New York is scheduled this week at the Garden City Golf Club, and there are dozens of important college baseball games down for decision. Outside of the regular faxtures, the most important happenings last week were the success of the American Olympic team at the games in Greece, the two galon efficiency contest of the Automobile Club of American and the playing of Jay Gouid in the amateur courts tennis championship of Great Britain, in which he was victorious in the final round. The young Lakewood crack has more than fulfilled expectations and while he has two matches more to play before he can earn the title, his chances look bright for steeses, even against such a master of the game as Enstice Miles.
